

EXPORTS:

Exports are an important market for Illinois corn farmers. Almost 50% of all the corn raised is shipped out of the state by boat, train, or truck to other countries to help feed people and fuel cars in other places.

